Art History Lecture * early and High Renaissance

Sue Linn is a full time Elementary and High School teacher in Orange County. She works in a private school, which allows her the flexibility to teach Elementary, Jr. High, and High School Art History and has 28 years experience. She also works with a program known as 'Meet the Master's'. This program is comprised of four age appropriate artists levels which introduce K-6th graders to seven famous and different artists and artistic styles each year. Sue says, "I have the privilege to instill a love for the arts in thousands of my students throughout the years and continue to do so." Her students, whose works are entered into the Orange County Arts for All, which features over 1000 works yearly at South Coast Plaza Crystal Court, where some are chosen to be judged and shown at the Festival of the Arts in Laguna Beach each year.

She currently spends most of her day in the high school and works for the College Board teaching Advanced Placement (College Level) AP Art History and AP World History. Sue has also led a dozen student and adult custom tours (2 to 3 weeks in summer) to the East Coast and Europe, where she specializes in taking her groups to the various tourist destinations, and those off the beaten track. Understanding the purpose of architecture, painting and sculpture in the world makes history come alive.

Sue stumbled into the Arts quite unexpectedly after starting out in the Sciences. She believes that art has a universal language, purpose and can unite people from all walks of life. Sue's goal is to be an instrument and vehicle to help her students develop art understanding, along with a global appreciation for the various artists and artistic styles in the world in which we live.
